China Airport Power Bank Restriction

The Civil Aviation Administration of China (CAAC) will implement the ban starting Saturday (Jun 28 2025), following multiple in-flight incidents involving fires and smoke caused by lithium battery products, including power banks.

Passengers traveling on domestic flights in China will be prohibited from bringing power banks that lack the China Compulsory Certification (3C) certificate mark, have unclear 3C certification, or have been subject to product recalls onboard.

CCC stands for "China Compulsory Certification" and basically acts similarly as CE in Europe or FCC in the US.

Restrictions:
• < 100Wh
• < 10,000 mAh
• < 2 pieces
